1	Consider operating with three vice-presidents instead of filling the open vice-president position until there is sufficient growth to warrant a larger staff.	President's Cabinet		Complete	N/A	Update: 6/16/15L We have gone back to the 3 VP model. COMPLETE
2	Consider restructuring the department chair model to either reduce the number of department chair positions, decreasing the amount of release time for department chairs, or move to a different model that has only deans, eliminating the department chair positions. If the department chairs are retained in some form, greater accountability should be established over class schedule building and faculty assignments to the department chairs.	VP of Academic Services	X	Disagreed	X (8)	Update: 6/16/15: We are currently in negotiations to clarify the roles between the Instructional Deans and the department chairs.
3	Limit the use of 199-day contracts. They should be used on a very limited basis if they are used at all.	VPs Academic Services & Student Services	X	Complete	X (9)	Update 6/16/15: All 199 contracts have been reduced.
4	Discontinue the practice of providing paid release time to either employee union groups beyond that time required by the Rodda Act and PERB rulings.	CHRO	X	Complete	X (34)	COMPLETE

Any savings can be used to help address a worst-case scenario in the current year.	President's Cabinet		Complete	N/A	Update: This item has been completed and a new budgeting cycle has been created to include a Special Budget Review.
12	Ensure multiyear projections include all cost increases such as those for retiree health benefits, utilities, normal step-and-column movement, employee benefits, and payroll. If a deficit occurs after including these items, the college should identify an ongoing revenue source and/or implement permanent cost reductions.	VP Business		Complete	X (19)	Update: Budget development process has addressed this issue

13	Develop a plan to restore the ending fund balance and to fund ongoing obligations if the November tax measure passes.	Board		Complete	N/A	Update: This item does not apply
14	Identify changes in revenues and expenditures that separate one-time adjustments from ongoing commitments so that there is a clear understanding of the budget's ongoing status. This includes items such as step/column and utilities and is also important in multiyear modeling.	VP Business		Complete	X (23)	Update: Budget development process has addressed this issue
15	Permanently implement a three-year budget model that allows for analysis of potential outcomes and consistently develop multiyear financial projections. VP Business		Complete	X (20)	Update: This recommendation has been implemented on an on-going basis.
18	Establish a closer link between budgeting for classes and the FTES targets, ensuring that the business office and instructional office monitor costs and FTES generated. This is important because these represent the greatest expense in the budget and the most significant revenue source.	VPs Academic Services & Business		Complete	X (6)	Update: An Enrollment Management plan and process has been implemented and continues on a 2 year cycle. Coordination between the Instruction and the Business Office rely on this tool to determine labor cost FTES earned in advance.
19	Develop a plan for tax measure passage that restores as much of the 449 lost FTES as possible. Recovery of these means revenue added to the base and is ongoing as long as the funded FTES is maintained.	VP Academic Services		Complete	X (44)	Update: Not applicable
20	Avoid spending more money in an attempt to regain FTES only to dilute productivity, leading to little change but higher costs. If the college merely adds sections that add cost and do not increase the FTES, it has spent more without additional FTES, which ends up achieving lower productivity in the process.	VPs Academic Services & Business		Complete	X(45)	Update: See response to number 18. This Enrollment Management tool has assisted the college in scheduling classes to meet the needs and maximize FTES generation without impacting productivity.
21	Identify additional, permanent reductions instead of one-time items for 2012-13.	Board		Complete	X (49)	Recommendation complete

58	Ensure each academic program recognizes its particular role in increasing the college's overall average class size. Lecture classes in the arts and sciences programs, such as history, psychology, sociology, and music appreciation, should increase well beyond the current class maximum of 40.	VP Academic Services	X		X (18)	Update (12/15/15) Reviewed and recommendation
59	Carefully review career and technical programs that have a low current student demand, a low local labor market demand for the near future, and/or a low certificate or degree completion rate. The college should develop a plan to increase the minimum class enrollment to 20 for classes that have been allowed to operate with enrollments of much less. Programs should be discontinued if enrollment does not increase to an average class size of approximately 20. There should be few and clearly delineated exceptions for specified advanced courses (This will require discussion as a contractual issue in negotiations between the college and the faculty union.)	VP Academic Services	X		X (15)	Update (12/15/15) Reviewed and recommendation
60	Require instructional deans and department chairs to focus on scheduling courses that have the greatest student demand, specifically arts and sciences courses, those that fulfill general education requirements (such as United States history), and CTE courses that fulfill core competencies (such as business communication). Similarly, programs should avoid scheduling elective or optional courses, especially those offered at four-year colleges (such as East Asian history), or that provide skills that could be learned on the job (such as office transcription).	VP Academic Services	X		X (3)	Update (12/15/15) Reviewed and recommendation
61	Direct instructional deans and department chairs in arts and science disciplines to schedule courses required for upper division coursework in the related majors instead of courses needed to fulfill a single-discipline associate's degree major. For example, a student who earns an associate degree in English or psychology without transferring to a four-year college is not prepared for a successful career. Arts and sciences programs should schedule courses that fulfill multiple-discipline associate majors (such as humanities or behavioral sciences), which are also typically those within transfer general education patterns such as intersegmental general education transfer courses.	VP Academic Services	X		X (58)	Update (12/15/15) Reviewed and recommendation
62	Encourage more students to complete certificates instead of simply taking courses and leaving. Selected certificate requirements for career technical education programs should be revised whenever possible so that certificates require fewer total units, focusing on core requirements. In some cases, this may mean offering two or more separate certificates, either in two areas or in beginning and intermediate levels. This will encourage and enable more students to complete certificates, before and after employment. Examples of programs that could benefit from this approach include electrical technology and business office technician. Because an unreasonable number of units is required for a certificate in many career technical education programs, many students drop out after earning enough units for entry-level employment.	VP Academic Services		Complete	X (29)	Update (12/15/15) Reviewed and recommendation complete

63	Require the career and technical programs moving into the college's new complex in 2014 to develop multiyear plans that outline how they will utilize the facility as enrollment increases. These programs include welding, air conditioning/refrigeration, building construction technology, electrical trades, fire science, emergency medical services, and administration of justice.	VP Academic Services			X (59)	Update (12/15/15) Reviewed and recommendation
64	Increase its online offerings in a variety of programs, whether courses are delivered completely or partially online, to help individuals living far away from the campus as well as those who live closer but wish to complete their coursework more quickly. Moving some classes to the online format such as selected courses in art history, child development, music appreciation, sociology, etc., would strengthen enrollments in many programs and make classroom space available for other courses. The college should also update its distance education plan (part of the college's educational master plan and last updated in 2011-12) to create an improved, coherent methodology, from the technological and educational perspectives, for expanding its online offerings.	VP Academic Services		Complete	X (60)	Update (12/15/15) Reviewed and recommendation complete
65	Find ways to stabilize or increase enrollment in the next three years without adding new full-time faculty. This would necessitate increasing class sizes and fill rates and/or hiring more adjunct faculty.	VP Academic Services	X	Complete	X (14)	Update (12/15/15) Reviewed and recommendation complete
66	Openly communicate that any program requests for new faculty will be denied until the college's overall faculty obligation number decreases to the obligatory level set by the California Community College Chancellor's Office. Currently, the college's obligatory faculty obligation number is 94.3.	President's Cabinet	X		X (42)	Update (12/15/15) Reviewed and recommendation
67	Reduce the amount of release time assigned to faculty for managerial responsibilities, to improve the college's 50% ratio and create more hours of faculty teaching, generating more FTES for their programs. The managerial duties formerly assigned to faculty members would be assumed by instructional administrators.	VP Academic Services	X	Complete	X (13)	Update (12/15/15) Reviewed and recommendation complete

68	Increase instructional programs and courses with low success rates to percentages close to the state average for the discipline. Several approaches could be used to accomplish this, including utilizing the student learning outcomes assessment and improvement process, increasing staff development in pedagogy, modifying course delivery practices such as providing shorter and variable term lengths, and revising course prerequisites.	VP Academic Services			X (61)	Update (12/15/15) Reviewed and recommendation
69	Conduct an assessment to determine factors beyond instructional scheduling that contribute to decreasing enrollments and fill rates.	VP Academic Services			X (62)	Update (12/15/15) Reviewed and recommendation
70	Implement continuous cross-functional team process evaluation and improvement, which began the summer of 2012. Each department should review three processes during academic year 2012-13, with plans and structures for ongoing process evaluation and improvement for future years.	President's Cabinet
71	Implement the program evaluation and improvement process for the library, which was not included in a FCMAT program evaluation process during this study period. Any additional programs that were not part of the FCMAT process should also be evaluated.	President's Cabinet			X (63)	Update (12/15/15) Reviewed and recommendation
72	Evaluate programs, especially those in student services, where the college's portion of their funding is in excess of the grant "match" requirement to ensure that IVC determines that subsidizing such programs is in line with IVC's priorities and that these evaluations are collaboratively conducted.	VP Student Services		Complete	X (64)	Update (12/15/15) Reviewed and recommendation complete
